

ARREST — Arrest warrant and search warrant distinguished.....
Revised 1/2010

“Although they serve the same constitutional purpose, arrest warrants and search warrants protect different interests: the arrest warrant requirement protects a person against an unreasonable seizure of his or her person, while the search warrant protects a person's privacy interests in his or her home or possessions.” State v. Hyde, 186 Ariz. 252, 268, 921 P.2d 655, 671 (1996). "The right to security in person and property protected by the Fourth Amendment may be invaded in quite different ways by searches and seizures. A search compromises the individual interest in privacy; a seizure deprives the individual of dominion over his or her person or property." Horton v. California, 496 U.S. 128, 133 (1990).
